Call for Special Sessions

The IECON 2013 organising team invites professionals in the area of Industrial Electronics to propose special sessions to be held on IECON 2013 in Vienna.

Special sessions provide the opportunity to focus in detail on particular emerging topics, which are not or not yet reflected in the list of conference tracks.

Proposal content

If you intend to propose and organise a special session, please provide us with a compact proposal in pdf format, including the following information

- Title of the Special Session
- Brief description of the area of concern (100-200 words), with special focus on why we should believe this is an interesting and significant topic?
- The name and contact information of two or more special session chairs, who are willing to promote and organise a sufficient amount of quality submissions to the special session. Please also indicate the background of the organisers.
- A list of potential authors and their affiliations
- A list of potential reviewers and their affiliations
- The sponsoring IES Technical Committee (if any)

Organisation of special sessions

Papers submitted to special sessions will undergo the same review process as regular papers. The special session chairs of the respective special session are responsible for organising the review process, assuring at least three reviews per paper. This includes selection of reviewers from their peers. A minimum of 5 papers is required for each session. If a session has too few papers, accepted papers will be allocated to regular sessions wherever possible. In case of indication of weakly organized special sessions, the conference organizers will support the organizers with advice but reserve measures including cancellation of the respective special session.
